DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 4, 10, 12, 15, 21, 23, 26 and 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cowan (5363918).

Cowan teaches a drilling and cementing fluid which comprises polymeric viscosifiers, fluid loss agents such as starch, and magnesium oxide such as MAGCHEM 10 (see the examples). MAGCHEM 10 is a large particle size slowly dissolving magnesia which would have an activity index within the scope of the present invention.

3. Claims 1, 4, 10, 12, 15, 21, 23, 26 and 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Chang (6165947).

Chang teaches a drilling and completion fluid (column 1, lines 10-12) which comprises HEC, which is both a viscosifier and fluid loss agent, and a magnesium oxide such as MAGCHEM 10-135 (see Table A). MAGCHEM 10-135 is a large particle size slowly dissolving magnesia which would have an activity index within the scope of the present invention.

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 1-33 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-36 of copending Application No. 10/901822. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because although the claims of 10/901822 differ in teaching the use of citric acid, such claims teach the same polymer, fluid loss additive and magnesia as the present claims and would render them obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art..

Art Unit: 1712

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

6. Claims 1-33 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-36 of copending Application No. 11/011659. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because although the claims of 11/011659 differ in teaching the use of citric acid, or salts thereof, such claims teach the same polymer, fluid loss additive and magnesia as the present claims and would render them obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art..

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
